Cabernet Sauvignon is blended with a smaller part Cabernet Franc in the Tua Rita 2019 Bosco dei Sugheri. This wine absolutely shows the concentrated elegance of the vintage with some of the soft fruit exuberance that we see in wines from the warmer 2020 growing season. Bosco dei Sugheri is an excellent expression of vintage and place, with fruit from the sunny Suvereto area of coastal Tuscany. The wine's elegance is transmitted with focus and length with ripe blackberry, spice and tobacco-like aromas. It is especially linear and sharp with hints of black stone or pencil shaving.

Stefano Frascolla describes this as "a dream vintage with a mild spring and a sunny summer with a few rain showers sprinkled throughout." Those rains served to refresh the vines and moderate phenolic ripening. The Tua Rita 2019 Redigaffi is a true beauty and is the perfect vintage to conclude this historic retrospective. The wine is generous and full with deep layers of black fruit, leather, tar and spice. This is the vintage on the market now, and it's absolutely one of the most age-worthy editions in this tasting.
